What AEO Analyzers does

AEO Analyzers measures what the AI engines say about a company. A URL, a few minutes, and three answers: are you found and described accurately by name, are you recommended when the buyer asks the category question without naming anyone, and which sources did the engines read. Every number states the engine panel and the answer count, and every transcript is kept, so you can read what the buyer read. We ran it on ourselves and published the result.
